MONEYMAN.
YETAT HON.

There was a transient depression and most of the banks resorted to a falling off in the rate of loans made. The movement in the upper river country continued but in other sections the change. Most of the banks are daily receiving remittances from the interior. It has not yet been of a sufficient nature to inform us of the result. In the districts of Lower are seen and 20,000 were per month. It is received from the East, though some are exported from St. Louis to the West. The offerings of New York are great, and the market are good, and
